Britain Against Revision

London, Oct. 5. Informed Whitehall sources said yesterday that Britain has reiterated to Turkey her opposition to the Soviet proposals for revision of the Montreux Convention governing the Dardanelles Convention.

The sources added, however, that Britain, in her consultations with the Turkish Government, made it clear that she has no objections to Turkey's participation in "bilateral discussions" called for in the Soviet note last month.

A Foreign Office spokesman confirmed that Britain has been "in consultation" with Turkey over the Soviet note in the Dardanelles but would not disclose the details of the consultations.

The spokesman said that Britain was in touch with the American State Department on the same question.

Other Whitehall sources forecasted an identical British-American reaction to Russia's second formal call for the establishment of a new Straits regime.

They declared that the United States would certainly not oppose the principle of bilateral discussion.—Associated Press.

U.S. "Steadying"

Washington, Oct. 5. Under-Secretary of State Acheson said today the State Department still has under very active study the question of a new American move in response to the Russian demands on Turkey for shares in the defence of the Dardanelles.

He said the Department will recommend its decision to President Truman and the President will decide whether to send a note to Turkey and Russia on the situation.

Acheson also said he hopes that before long the Government will be able to announce a policy with respect to the former Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific captured by the American forces during the war.

Regarding the statement on Navy plans to build major bases in Guam and the central Aleutians, he said it was not a suitable matter for him to discuss as Under-Secretary.—Associated Press.

Refuse To Move

I was told yesterday, however, that the Chinese refuse to move until they receive lump payment for their time in Java.

Another held in the Colony which has been occupied by refugees has now been turned over to the owners. The 83 European and Chinese refugees who have been living in the Kowloon Hotel since February, when it was requisitioned by the Relief section of the Hong Kong Government, have "now been moved to the Argyle Street camp" which was used as a place of internment by the Japanese during the occupation.

An official of the department tells me that most of the refugees are Portuguese or Eurasians and that they left the Colony during the occupation and went to Macao. When they returned here, they were unable to find any accommodation although the majority hold office positions in Hong Kong and their monthly salaries average around $200.

In the Argyle Street camp they are living in ten wooden huts while six smaller huts are used as their kitchens and wash rooms.

Although their present living conditions can hardly be called as pleasant as their previous accommodation in the Kowloon Hotel, because they know at the moment they cannot find anything better.

Optimist?

The official in charge of the camp said hopefully yesterday: "As more and more houses are requisitioned in the Colony we hope they will be able to find suitable space for themselves. In the meantime, we are doing the best we can."

The "War" In Iran

Teheran, Oct. 5. Iran Army GHQ today announced the full to "armed tribesmen of the garrison of Khuzestan, 70 miles northwest of the Persian Gulf port of Bushire after heavy fighting and severe casualties."

A communiqué stated that all army buildings and stores had been destroyed before the garrison yielded.

A relief column sent to Khuzestan, the capital of Fars Province, reached the town last night after a 12-hour running battle with tribesmen while crossing the Mardasht plateau in the neighborhood of Badkub, 11 miles from Shiraz.

From Hajrum, 100 miles southeast of Shiraz, news was received today that the large military garrison in that locality was expecting an attack by tribesmen at an moment.—Reuter.

GERMANS, ITALIANS AMONG "OTRANTO" WIVES

"Enemy Aliens" May Not Be Permitted To Land In The Colony

No Accommodation Available Yet

(By Margaret Bradbury)

The 800 Chinese refugees who will arrive in Hong Kong in the "Otranto" on October 13 are reported to be bringing 51 European wives and 55 children with them. Many of these women are German and Italian nationals and a Government official told me yesterday that it had not been decided whether—as enemy aliens—they would be allowed to land in the Colony.

What will happen to all these refugees if and when they disembark is not known. The accommodation originally planned for them by the CNRRA and UNRRA authorities here is still occupied by 1,700 Chinese who arrived from Java last Friday and took over the To Yuen refugee hostel, Hong Kong, from which they now refuse to move.

These people were brought to Hong Kong from Banca, in Java, by the Java-China-Japan Line, although their homes are scattered over many parts of China. Originally, they left the country on a two-year contract to work in tin mines in Java run by a Dutch firm.

They were interned or, it is believed, made to work for the Japanese during the occupation and are now claiming pay for that period from the mining firm.

The staff of the company, Mr. Sui Sang-woo, who is in Hong Kong, is negotiating with them and in the meantime their food and maintenance while in the To Yuen hostel is being paid for by his company.

CORDELL HULL

Washington, Oct. 5. The condition of Mr. Cordell Hull, former United States Secretary of State, was described as unchanged in a bulletin issued this morning from the Naval Hospital here, where he was taken following his stroke last Tuesday. Earlier, Mr. Hull was reported to have had his best sleep yet since being taken ill but his condition was still grave.—Reuter.

Trebitsch Lincoln Was A Spy

Shanghai, Oct. 5. Hermann Erben, former United States citizen who acknowledges he was a German spy in the last war, has testified before a United States Military Commission that Trebitsch Lincoln, one time British M.P. and later a Buddhist abbot in China, was a spy until his death here last year.

Erben testified that Lincoln actually a Nazi agent although he was of Jewish origin, issued virulent anti-Nazi statements.

Erben, a star prosecution witness, told the Commission trying 27 alleged Nazi spies that Dr. Albert von Merini, well-known local physician, was also a spy but was murdered by agents of the Bureau Ehrhardt.

Lieutenant Colonel C. Tani, formerly in charge of Japanese Army Intelligence in Shanghai, identified three of the defendants, including Ludwig Ehrhardt, as people with whom he had dealings after Germany's surrender.—Associated Press.

Italian Reparations

Paris, Oct. 5. Italy will pay $325,000,000 reparations to be delivered in goods and services under the decisions of the Paris Conference taken early today during the third successive all-night session.

The Italian reparations issue—one of the most bitterly contested of the conference—was finally decided at 4 a.m. today after the Italian Economic Committee had sat for 16 hours with only breaks for meals.

The general effect of the series of votes was to adopt the proposals put forward by Britain and supported by the United States that reparations should be distributed—as follows:—

Albania, nil; Abyssinia $25,000,000; Greece $100,000,000; Yugoslavia $100,000,000. It had previously been agreed on the recommendation of the Big Four that Russia should receive $100,000,000.

The method by which the voting was carried out was sufficiently vague to allow a margin for the Big Four to make a minor redistribution when they take their final decisions.

During the debate, Mr. Wilfrid Thorne (United States) revealed that the United States had proposed a total of $205,000,000 and Russia—as far as could be estimated—$850,000,000. The United States suggested that Yugoslavia reparations should be scaled down to $80,000,000 to make allowance for Italian property in the territory ceded by Italy to Yugoslavia.

Russia urged that Albania should receive reparations on an equal basis with Abyssinia. The two committees sat through the night as the conference went flat out to beat the clock.—Reuter.

Churchill Slams The Government

Blackpool, Oct. 5. Mr. Winston Churchill, former Prime Minister, addressing the Conservative Party Conference mass meeting here today, declared: "At present we are not like some of our neighbours on the continent, plunged in fundamental discussions about our constitution."

"The Government, as well as the Opposition—Socialists, Conservatives and Liberals—are united against Communism and the Communist Party. The declared hostility of the Socialists towards Communism although it is not at present important in this country has exercised a significant and salutary influence."

There was also, Mr. Churchill continued, a considerable measure of agreement on the main lines of foreign policy. This was especially true of Britain's close association with the United States, "whose firm and unchanged policy in Europe and the abandonment of the doctrine of isolation, constitutes the main bulwark of peace."

"We should all, like also to preserve our wartime friendship with the Russian people and with the Soviet Government if they will allow us to do so and will stop what Mr. Bevin calls the 'war of nerves'."

"The Socialist Government," Mr. Churchill declared, "does not represent the majesty of the nation."

"Party Before Country"

"Under our present electoral system, we have a majority of two to one in Parliament and at every election they seem to be party before the country."

"In little more than a year, they have diminished British influence abroad by very large margins, paralysed our revival of arms."

Mr. Churchill continued: "And now I wish to speak of India. You all know my views about India and how we have desired to give full dominion status to India."

"The Government of India has been placed—or I should rather say thrust—into the hands of men who have a good reason to be bitterly hostile to British connections but who in no way represent the enormous mass of nearly 400,000,000 of all races, estates and peoples of India, who have dwelt so long in peace with one another."

"I fear that a calamity impends upon this sub-continent which is almost as big as Europe, more populous and even more harshly divided."

"I foresee that in quite a short time, India will become a separate foreign and none too friendly country to the British Commonwealth of Nations. Indian unity created by British rule will swiftly perish and no one can measure the misery and bloodshed which will overtake these enormous masses of humble and helpless millions or under what new power their future and destiny will lie."

"Ship Is Sinking"

"All this is happening every day and in every hour. The great ship is sinking in a calm sea. Those who should have devoted their utmost efforts to keep her afloat, have instead opened the sea-cocks. The event will long leave its mark in history. It may well be that Burma will soon suffer the same fate. I am grieved to have to say this."

Neutrals Could Help

Washington, Oct. 4. Argentina, Sweden, Switzerland and other neutrals may be asked to take over some of the burden of maintaining and putting defeated European countries back on their feet, as a result of discussions here between the British Chancellor of the Exchequer and the United States Treasury.

"It is thought possible that because of racial bias that Italy might approach Argentina direct for increased assistance with the encouragement and support of the major powers. It has also been argued in high quarters that this week's prosperous trading during the war and is now benefiting from a post-war increase in commercial traffic in the excellent physical and economic position to aid America's exports in the same position as regards Germany. The feasibility of approaching these com-mercially minded nations to take over some of the burden of maintaining and putting defeated European countries back on their feet, as a result of discussions here between the British Chancellor of the Exchequer and the United States Treasury.

"UNITED STATES OF EUROPE"

Blackpool, Oct. 5. Winston Churchill renewed his call yesterday for a United States of Europe, declaring that "all the burden of restoring world peace should not be thrown upon the United States of America."

"Why should this continent be a mangled victim and dependent for succour upon the generosity of other lands?" he continued.

"The United States of America has definitely declared herself as abandoning the policy of isolation, and of watching vigilantly and sharing effectively in the guidance and restoration of Europe and the peace of the world."

"All that has to be done is that some 250,000,000 people have to wake up one morning and say we wish to be happy, freer and prosperous, and we will only give our votes to the political parties who will vote for a United States of Europe," he declared.

Repeating the plea he made in a recent speech at Zurich to "let the bitter feuds and quarrels of the past pass away," Churchill added: "We cannot afford to go forward dragging these chains of vengeance and hatred behind us. Justice must be done and punishment must be inflicted on those who are judged guilty," he concluded.—Associated Press.

Free --- But Every Way Is Barred

Nuernberg, Oct. 5. Rudolf Hess, Julius Streicher and Hans Frank have filed appeals for clemency against their sentences by the War Crimes Tribunal. It was announced last night. Frank and Streicher were sentenced to death and Hess to life imprisonment. The S.S. has also filed an appeal.

The three acquitted Nazi leaders—Schacht, von Papen, and Fritzsche—face the ironic limitation of freedom granted to them by the War Crimes Tribunal's decision.

Of the four zones of Germany, two have refused them entry, one is considered unwise for them to enter and in the fourth they face trial by their own people. A warrant has been issued for their arrest by the Nuremberg Purge Court; the French zone has refused them entry; and the British zone has barred Schacht and Fritzsche.

Now they have their choice:—Firstly, to go to the Russian zone. This would scarcely be a good choice in the opinion of observers here, since the Russian judge on the Tribunal distanced on their acquittal.

The Chinese Ambassador, Dr. Cheng, was at the terminal to see the party off to Hong Kong, where they are expected to land on Tuesday.

P.O.W. Collapsed, Awoke In The "Death Ward"

At yesterday's war crimes trial, W/O Edwards said that sick POWs who were unable to complete the quota of work, were flogged and hammered by the Formosan "hanchos" at the end of the day's work.

Witness also said that after he had collapsed and come to in the morning, he was horrified to find himself in the "Death Ward" into which second and third accused would peep and then giggle.

The case is being heard before Lieut. Col. R. C. Laming (Dept. of the JAG in India) Barrister-at-Law, President, and Major J. T. Lorange, JAG Branch, Canadian Army and Captain K. R. Busfield, R.A.C. Members.

Major P. A. L. Vine, Royal Marines, is the Prosecuting Officer. The accused, Sgt. Tashiro Toranosuke, Cpl. Ueno Mitsuo and Cpl. Kuribayashi Shigeru, who are charged with having committed a War Crime at Kinkaseki, Formosa, are defended by Mr. Fujita Tetsuo, assisted by Captain P. K. Kostloff as Adviser.

Warrant Officer J. O. Edwards said that in July 1943 most of the POWs were suffering from diarrhoea, beri beri, malnutrition and exhaustion. Although the state of the men was obvious, they were sent away without cards. Men who were in a worse condition than witness, who only had a high temperature, were sent back to work.

Witness saw a number of unissued cards on the table. All cards were under the control of the three accused and kept under lock and key. The decisions of the three accused were never questioned by senior Japanese officers.

The first accused struck POWs for not saluting him, not squatting on the floor in Japanese fashion when eating their meals, if blankets were not straight and if latrine doors were left open.

Prior to an inspection by a Japanese officer, a POW named Hilston was struck by first accused. Hilston's face was puffed up as a result of beri beri and witness could see the imprints of fingers on his face where he had been struck. Hilston never went to work again and was transferred to another Camp, where he later died.

Giggled

The attitude of second accused towards POWs was one of indifference. He frequently used the phrase "nanni yok!" to POWs on sick parades and would giggle. The men were sent back to work.

Witness related how he had collapsed one night in November 1944 and when he came to the next morning, was horrified to find himself in the "Death Ward" with several other sick men, who were all seriously ill.

The second and third accused were in the next room and witness could hear them laughing and cackling. Sometimes they would peep into the "Death Ward", giggle, then clap their hands over their mouths.

Witness was in this ward for five days. All the other POWs in the ward died. The only attention witness received was from the POW doctors, who had a limited supply of drugs.

The three accused always had the last say over the control of patients in hospital. When the second accused was orderly officer, he made rounds in the same way as first accused and would slap POWs for not saluting. As regards beatings, he was not so brutal as the first accused. Third accused did not adopt a brutal attitude on sick parades and witness never saw him slap a POW. He treated sick men in the same way as the other accused and sent those who were obviously sick back to the mine.

When witness was in the "Death Ward" and third accused in the M.I. Room next door, he never came in to see the POWs.

Third accused was definitely under the orders of first and second accused, except on the occasions he was duty N.C.O. On these occasions, he issued and recalled cards on his own initiative.

A Nightmare

To witness, this march to and from the camp to the mine was still a nightmare. In witness' mind there were 40 men. At times he had as low as 30. These men were also sick, but accused considered them fit to work. Many were suffering from beri beri in the legs and a finger could be pressed almost one inch into the swollen parts. Only one man

Recorded Music

There will be a concert of recorded music at the Tse H. S. Club, St. Andrews, Nathan Road, Kowloon at 8 p.m. today.

The programme will include the following: Overture "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, Ballet Suite "Swan Lake" by Tchaikovsky and played by the London Philharmonic Orchestra, conductor John Barbirolli, Concerto in C Major by Mozart with Arthur Schnabel and the London Symphony Orchestra, Peer Gynt Suite by Grieg with Sir Thomas Beecham conducting the London Philharmonic Orchestra and Symphony No. 6 in G Major "The Italian" by Mendelssohn played by the Boston Symphony Orchestra conducted by Serge Koussevitzky.

his health deteriorated. Witness saw him going to the mine dragging his feet. When the liberation came, he was too weak to be moved. Witness last saw him the day before he was transferred to the hospital at Taihoku in the beginning of September 1945.

Acid Water

The acid water in the hot holes of the mine caused itching all over the body and that which dripped from the sides and ceiling affected the eyes. The water also caused cracks to appear on the feet. Up till the end of 1943 there were from 50 to 60 deaths at Kinkaseki Camp.

This concluded the examination-in-chief of W/O Edwards and hearing was adjourned till 10 a.m. tomorrow, when Mr. Fujita Tetsuo will commence his cross-examination of witness.

Flogged

At the end of the day came the reckoning. Due to the state of the men, quotas could not be fulfilled. Those who did not fill the quota were flogged and hammered by the "hanchos". The men who were flogged were told that they would continue to be beaten until they filled the quota.

On returning to camp, many of these attempted to obtain white cards to avoid further beatings. Witness then stated that the health of Cpl. Puckerin, who was very fit and who held cycling records in Britain, rapidly deteriorated after reaching Kinkaseki Camp. Puckerin suffered from diarrhoea and then dysentery. He was sent away from Kinkaseki Camp in a pitiable state of health. Witness last saw Puckerin in Manila in 1945, when he could not have weighed more than six stone. Normally, he was a well built man and a perfect athlete.

Sgt. Cousins, one of the fittest men in the Camp who was originally able to fill nine trucks a day, later contracted beri beri and in the middle of 1943

Sauve Qui Peut For Canned Milk Soon

It has been decided by the International Emergency Food Council that international allocation of canned milk and milk powder shall be discontinued and territories may henceforth be permitted to obtain their requirements, both for internal consumption and re-export, without regard to import programmes.

It is, therefore, proposed to return procurement and distribution of these products to commercial channels as soon as possible. In order to safeguard supplies to the public and at the same time leave the maximum freedom to trade, the following measures will be applied during the change-over period.

S. T. & I. have stocks on hand and coming forward which will be sufficient to meet the present ration of condensed and evaporated milk up to Dec. 31 this year.

Import licences for condensed and evaporated milk and skim milk powder will be issued freely as from Oct. 6 to established pre-war importers only, (except that where foreign exchange is required the authority of the Financial Secretary must also be obtained). No import licences will as yet be issued for full cream milk powder.

Of each consignment imported the importer will have to retain a minimum of 70 per cent for consumption in Hong Kong; sales will, however, not be permitted before Jan. 1 at the earliest. The balance will be available for re-export, subject to any restriction imposed by the Financial Secretary on the re-export of goods for which foreign exchange has been authorised.

After Jan. 1, 1947, it is hoped to permit free sale for local consumption. This will, however, depend on the volume of supplies which have arrived by that date. If supplies prove, in fact, to be inadequate to ensure fair distribution without rationing, it will be necessary to retain control, in full or part, of distribution until adequate stocks have been built up.

The percentage permitted for re-export may be varied, in accordance with the volume of supplies coming forward.

Irrespective of anything above, no further control will be exercised over the distribution or re-export of skim milk or skim milk powder.

Surplus stocks remaining in the hands of S. T. & I. on Jan. 1 will, (if rationing is discontinued) be offered to the local agents of the brand concerned. It is unlikely that stocks will be considerable.

Great China Hotel Loses Suit

Written judgment was delivered yesterday by Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, sitting in Original Jurisdiction, in the case in which the Great China Hotel Ltd. sought to secure repossession of premises from the Wo Hing Co. Ltd. and an injunction to restrain the latter from carrying on a hotel business.

The plaintiffs, represented by Mr. Leo d'Almeida, a Castro, maintained that the agreement entered into with defendants in May 1941 by which the premises were rented to them for five years was, by the nature of the special conditions attached to it, not a lease agreement. So that on its expiry it would terminate without the question of tenancy arising.

The defendants, represented by Mr. B. Bernacchi, replied that despite the special conditions the agreement was still a lease, and they were entitled to remain on as monthly tenants and were protected from eviction by the Landlords and Tenants' Proclamation.

In his judgment Mr. Justice Williams recounted the various conditions of the agreement and quoted authorities on the subject, and held that despite certain important reservations and restrictions imposed on defendants on the use of the premises, the agreement was still a lease and, as such, the defendants were protected by Proclamation No. 16 of the Landlords and Tenants' Proclamation.

Mr. Justice Williams refused to grant an injunction for restraining the defendants from carrying on a hotel business, since the premises were originally rented by defendants for such business.

In regard to the $40,000 cash deposit held by plaintiffs of defendants as security for due fulfilment of the agreement, His Lordship held that plaintiffs were entitled to retain the deposit against any claims for loss or damage of fixtures.

Taxed costs in the action were ordered to be borne half by plaintiffs and half by defendants.

Workshops' Ordinance

An ordinance to amend the Factories and Workshops Ordinance, 1937, is to come before Legislative Council.

When the Factories and Workshops Ordinance, 1937, was enacted, the Labour Office had recently been set up and the Labour Officer was engaged mainly on research into labour organization and labour problems. The task of enforcing the Ordinance was given to the Chairman of the Urban Council.

The Labour Officer and his staff have gradually been taking over the responsibilities for labour control previously exercised by the Chairman of the Urban Council and the object of this Bill is to carry this development to its natural conclusion by formally vesting the Chairman of the Urban Council of his functions as Protector of Labour and substituting regulations by the Governor in Council for by-laws by the Urban Council.

Wedding

Rocha-Margues

The wedding took place at St. Teresa's Church yesterday afternoon of Mr. Carlos L. Rocha, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rocha, and Miss Margie Marques, daughter of Mrs. Augusta Marques and the late Mr. F. Marques. Father Granelli officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Marques, was attended by Miss A. Gosano, maid-of-honour. The duties of best man and witness were undertaken by Mr. H. A. Botelho and Mr. F. Nolasco da Silva.

The groom, who was with 4th Battery, H.K.V.D.C., is now with the Harbour Office. He was a P.O.W. in Tokyo, while his father, Mr. C. L. Rocha, managed to make his way into China and finished up the war as a Sergeant in the "Chindit" Deep Penetration Airborne Force in Burma.

A reception was held later at the home-to-be of the newlyweds, 226 Prince Edward Road. The honeymoon is to be spent at Reunite Bay.

The Speaker at the Hong Kong Rotary Club's luncheon on Tuesday at the Gloucester Hotel, Top Floor, at 12.45 p.m., will be Mr. S. L. Yen, and his subject will be "Mental Culture."

CORRESPONDENCE

Hurt

Sir,—My stablemates and I very much resent the remarks in "Deeply Shocked" recent letter and I must say that our young friend, Goldy is very hurt to think that any body should doubt our good intentions.

Substantive indeed! The only possible adverse effect our action could have had was to disturb the forecasts of a certain gentleman reclining behind the name of "Blinkers" who, as his name implies, can not have a very clear outlook anyway.

Is the age of chivalry dead, Sir? If so called lovers of the turf continue to belittle the actions of the female among us, we shall, I assure you, Sir, assume the role of Horse de Combat.

H.K. FISHERIES

Dr. Herklot's broadcast on the anniversary yesterday of the fish marketing scheme puts the recent agitation for its abandonment in its true perspective. The best practical test of the acceptability of Government control to the mass of genuine fisherfolk lies in the degree of their cooperation, and the clearest advocate for the laas must find difficulty in explaining away Dr. Herklot's figures. In twelve months, the number of fishermen and of boats actively engaged in the local fishing industry have both more than doubled. For which, there is only one reason: Fishing people operating elsewhere up and down the coast, fully aware of the nature of official intervention in Hong Kong, and of its consequence to the industry, have voluntarily submitted themselves to this "unnecessary interference" and have discovered it to be advantageous to base themselves, with their boats, upon Hong Kong and link themselves with the cooperative organization. Were confirmation necessary, a visit to any of the important fishing villages provides it. One finds an air of prosperity that brooks of no argument. No-one in close touch with the situation has, of course, ever been in serious doubt about the origin of the recent agitation. When a highly lucrative business slips between a middle-man's fingers, it is not to be expected that he will get up and lead the applause. The only point of interest in the campaign, really, is concerned with why it should have flared up at this particular time and in face of the demonstrable fact that the scheme, as far as it has been carried, has proved a complete success. How far the consumer has benefited, it is impossible to estimate. Fish prices have remained high, but under any other arrangements they might well have been higher. In the retail market, supply and demand have determined prices, and the disparity between wholesale and retail quotations has been wide. Here is a problem requiring attack from another angle, and that this will be undertaken, Dr. Herklot has given an assurance. Nothing could have been clearer than his challenge: the Fisheries Department will be open to criticism if results are not achieved within six weeks.

MACAO RELIEF

The Volunteer announcement on Macao relief payments in relation to pay and pensions will not please all affected. The decision, nevertheless, appears manifestly just and reasonable. For the purpose of Volunteer accounts, relief payments are to be treated as allowances to wives and legal dependants, and debited at the applicable rates, and in the case of widows, charged as payments on account of pension. As this conforms to the practice followed where wives were in Australia or in the British Isles, there can be no question of discrimination, and small ground for complaint. If the announcement carried anything, it was in the tail. The decision does not mean that Macao accounts have been entirely written off. Those who received relief payments in excess of the amounts due under War Office regulations are still subject to a claim for recovery of such money, paid in excess. What that may mean in practice depends presumably upon the individual capacity to pay. It is impossible to conceive the attachment of a lien upon a widow's future pension, if she is without further adequate means of support. There must, too, be many Volunteers, with wives and children to maintain, who can never be expected to regard Macao relief as an obligation to be met out of their monthly pittance. The home Government can, perhaps, legitimately expect repayment from persons obviously well-to-do who found in Macao a refuge from the storm. But a large magnanimity would be the proper gesture in most cases.

Berne, Oct. 4.
A Swiss delegation, headed by Dr. Heller left today for Berlin at the invitation of the British and American economic authorities to discuss the ways and means of facilitating an exchange of goods and payments between Switzerland and the British and American zones of Germany. —Reuter.

TODAY IN EUROPE

Gilbert Miller, the well-known American theatrical producer, was recently considering buying one of New York's most famous theatres. Instead, at the last moment, he changed his mind and bought one in London. Writing to his friend Alexander Ince, American publisher and producer, he asked his opinion as to whether he had decided wisely. Mr. Ince replied that undoubtedly he had because, whereas in New York there were plenty of things on which to spend money, in London theatre tickets seemed about the only thing that could be bought off ration.

By RANDOLPH

Mr. Ince showed considerable discernment in his answer. The London stage is booming, and has been for the last four years. And one of the reasons undoubtedly is the emptiness of London shops. During the war, the service men and women who flocked to London on leave found nothing to do with their money except to spend it on going to plays and films. As a result, runs of many plays were extended far longer than was warranted by their merit.

The problem facing producers is not to find a play which will succeed but to find an empty theatre where a new play can be presented. The boom continues, and under the circumstances, it is surprising that the standard of the London stage has remained as high as it has. For this, to a great extent, we have to thank John Gielgud and Laurence Olivier. Both these fine actor-producers have consistently presented good plays in London and have many notable successes.

The high proportion of musicals and light comedies presented during the war is dropping. More and more straight plays are being produced. And an interesting development is the gradual appearance of right-wing propaganda as a dramatic theme.

London audiences are notoriously lazy-minded and like to have their thinking done for them. For that reason, the stage here has never been used extensively as a vehicle for political propaganda. And when it has been so used, leftist propaganda has usually predominated. Bernard Shaw is the only consistently successful political playwright, but Shaw must be regarded as an exception to all rules. Some of his genius lies in his ability to annoy people while at the same time retaining their admiration and respect. Reviews, of course, have always included songs and sketches making fun of the Government, but authority is fair game for authors of reviews.

Prophecy

Far more significant has been the production of two straight plays dealing with life under a Labour Party Government. Of necessity, both these plays are prophetic, for the evils of the present regime are not yet sufficiently apparent to provide a solid butt for satire. In "Tomorrow's Child" by Peter Coates, a picture is painted of the standardized existence awaiting us in twenty years. Standardized homes, meals and marriages are enforced by standardized bureaucrats. Individual rebels are dispatched to "correction camps", where Government officials seek to show them the error of their ways. The second play, "Day After Tomorrow" by Simon Wardell and Kieran Thomas, prophesies similar horrors at an even earlier date. A soldier returning from Burma in 1947 finds his home incredibly altered. His aunt has a passion for eggs, and so his unfortunate father has gone to prison for the crime of securing half a dozen for her. Permits, licenses and documents of all sorts are required for the simplest actions. Families are planned wittily by Government officials. Bureaucratic gauleiters are all-powerful. In the end, the wretched young man returns to Burma in disgust, taking his family with him.

Conservative London

London theatre-goers, whatever their politics, are very conservative about the plays they like to see. That probably is the reason why "Thornton Wilder's 'Our Town'" failed when Marc Connelly produced that American play over here. Presented without scenery and with few props, it was too unconventional for London. It's a pity for, at the same time, New York was welcoming London's Old Vic Company with tremendous enthusiasm. Londoners would like to see more American plays. But why cannot the original American productions come over with American casts? In these days of air travel that should be

The Threat Of World Famine

By Dr. EDITH SUMMERSKILL,
Parliamentary
Secretary to the British Ministry of Food

At a time when the threat of famine hangs heavily over the world, linking the East and the West in a common bond of suffering, the people are asking the same question: what are the underlying reasons for the present acute food shortage? What steps are being taken to meet it? How long is this unhappy situation going to last? We in Britain have had extensive experience of rationing. We introduced the system in January 1940 with butter, bacon and sugar. Since then rationing has been extended so that nearly all important foods are now controlled, either by rationing or other distribution schemes administered by the Ministry of Food. There is general recognition that rationing is the only way of ensuring that everyone gets a fair share of the available supplies during the present period of stringency. When Hitler sent his armies into Poland he unleashed forces of greater destructive power than any the world had yet seen. Tanks and transport swept over wheat-fields, and bombers flattened grain stores. As the gigantic struggle progressed and more and more nations became involved in it, the same grim story of destruction was repeated all over Europe. The Russians in their determination that nothing of value should fall into German hands adopted the scorched earth policy which added to the general ruin. With the collapse of Allied resistance in the West, occupied countries were forced to grow food for their conquerors. The Nazis took most of it and the conquered people had to make do on the little that was left.

Same Story

In the Far East the same story was repeated. When the Japanese thrust southwards was finally stopped it left in enemy hands the chief rice-exporting areas—Formosa, Korea, Burma, Siam and French Indo-China. When the Allies liberated these lands they found little rice available for export to India, Ceylon and other needy countries. In early 1945, the situation was examined by the Combined Food Board. At that time the future though serious did not look too black because prospective harvest in wheat-exporting countries—Canada, Australia, U.S. and Argentina—seemed likely to be good and it was felt that sufficient stocks of wheat would be available to meet the demands of hungry lands. Then unexpectedly Nature intervened upsetting all plans so carefully worked out. In India, the monsoon failed and rice and wheat crops perished for lack of rain. Drought struck both Argentina and Australia. Worst of all in China the Yellow River burst its banks and flooded a million square miles of rice land. When the Combined Food Board again examined the situation it was found to be bad indeed. Wheat—importing countries needed at least 17,000,000 tons of wheat from overseas. At the most there appeared to be 12,000,000 tons available. For rice the picture was even worse. Of the 5,000,000 tons needed, the exporting countries could not find more than 2,000,000. This was the position in April.

simple enough. Two plays by American authors—"Portrait in Black" by Ivan Goff and Ben Roberts, and "Love Goes to Press" by Virginia Cowles and Martha Gelhorn—were done here well enough but they were both English productions with English casts. An American company presenting a series of American plays in London would be assured a great welcome.

UNRRA Activity
Working in parallel with FAO is the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to whose finances Britain is the second largest contributor. Despite severe world shortages, UNRRA has shipped over 10,000,000 tons of vitally-needed supplies to Europe and approximately 900,000 tons to China. Emergency relief has been extended to include Hungary, Finland and the Philippines. In China, plans are complete for the largest UNRRA operation yet undertaken—the return of the Yellow River to its pre-war natural course and the restoration of the flooded farmlands of two rich provinces.

With all these varied anti-famines Britain has associated herself most gladly because she believes that problems which are so pressing can only be solved by the most drastic international action. But she has done much more than this. Since

Post-War Standards
In BritainBy JAMES
LANSDALE
HODSON

It would be a difficult task to decide how much, by pre-war standards, is normal in Britain today and how much abnormal. Perhaps nothing is normal. At the dawn of the century, the standard of our own players seemed comparatively low and wondered how much a war die and war service had to do with it. Hundreds of motor-cars had come, but an expert has just estimated that whereas motoring used to cost a modest man, say £2 a week it now costs £4, and for that his basic ration allows him to travel 50 miles which works out at 1/7d a mile.

But what shall we say about bread rationing? This is historic. We avoided it in two major wars, we come to it after a year of peace that bears some resemblance to war in its hardships and on any international relationships. Bitterly, however, already sorely pressed must assume yet another burden. But I do not think it is so trouble. One and half as at first blush it seemed. There are households where the ration is greater than he can eat, and they are able to change the surplus for other "points" to give extra tinned milk, sardines, dried fruit, biscuits and so forth. So that they are in better luck than Mr. Victor Gollancz, the publisher, has been campaigning for a reduction in our rations to help those overseas. I do not go all the way with him but I go some part. He has just published a book, "Our Threatened Way of Life" which seems to me to be stamped with true liberalism of mind. He says, or thinks he says, a growing contempt for pity, he points to attacks on freedom of speech, assails the "barbaric judgements" being meted out in various countries in Europe, condemns (I think rightly) the cruel conditions under which masses of population have been evicted from Poland and Czechoslovakia, draws attention to the materialistic aspect of Communism which prevails in the West, and pleads a restoration of our Western tradition of deep respect for the personality of the individual, for tolerance of views with which we disagree and for civility towards even those who were our enemies.

Right So Far

His book is worthy of note because it is the book of a Jew who can write thus although 6,000,000 of his fellow Jews have been exterminated in Europe in this war. He is often severely attacked on the grounds that he favours treating Germans too softly, and seems more concerned about feeding them than feeding Poles and Czechs and Indians. But he is right thus far. Our Western standards of civilization have been undermined by this war and need building up again, and that the only sure way of winning the war is to prove to them that our way of life and ethics and traditions are far superior to those of the Nazis. In other words, we have got to treat him far better than they would have treated us had they won the war.

We are, of course, doing so, but the Potsdam agreement and the inability of the four Great Powers to agree on the handling of Germany as a whole, has us to date made it impossible for Britain to set with the liberalism of mind, the long view, and the wisdom that would have become us best. I can see no sense in the standard of life of Germany in the British rationing industry from starting-up in a limited way that we Britain are, in truth, paying £80 million a year to the Germans—virtual reparations to them—to keep them going. The remedy, it seems to me, is to permit them enough industrial activity in the Ruhr—under strict supervision—to allow them to pay their way and rebuild a civilized way of life.

The minds of many men are seized of this matter; and other deep problems, too. Is Christianity losing its hold on mankind? I observe that Professor K. S. Labouret, author of a seven-volume work, "A History of the Expansion of Christianity," says that in the period 1914-46, although the Christians' religion lost some ground in Europe, it made gains in other parts of the world and that in 1946, Christianity was thirty years earlier.

The Wonder

This view which must be respected will both surprise and encourage a host of people, but it comes at a time when I notice that another professor, writing on biology, points out that man, barely out of his evolutionary grade, ignorant still of the very nature of thought on which his power depends, has come to control incredible powers. "No wonder he blunders in the 'dark' frontier wonder if he survives!" If we become extinct our successors may find the explanation (the myth) in the failure of man to overcome his mastery of the forces of inanimate matter by a life conquest of the problems of life itself. If we become extinct, meaning through the atom bomb and like discoveries, the historian 100 years hence will be interested in the possibility and he will note perhaps too that at this time there are thinkers who discern a gleam of hope in the fact that the 'Nuremberg' trials we have followed the 'guilt' of breaking world peace on individuals—a new thing in history. I share the view that this ought to be a deterrent.

then the world will have to continue to tighten its belt for a considerable time. Current reports suggest that food consumption in Europe for 1946-47 may be about 50 per cent of pre-war in the Far East. The average yields in 1946 should show an increase over the previous year of about 7 per cent in paddy rice but the bulk of that rice will not be harvested until November and onwards. Estimates are still about 10 per cent short of pre-war level. Wheat and other grain crops now being harvested in India are likely to be short and so are the production of coarse grains in China. The picture seems serious enough but it is not without its hopeful side.

Washington, Oct. 5.
President Harry Truman yesterday called for an immediate substantial immigration of displaced Jews into Palestine.

President Truman also endorsed the Jewish Agency plan for the creation of a Jewish state in an "adequate area" of Palestine, and rejected outright the plan for Arab-Jewish division of the Holy Land which Britain and many of the President's own advisers are supporting.

The President's cable Prime Minister Clement Attlee yesterday and outlined his own views on the matter. They were:

"In view of the fact that winter will come before the Palestine Conference in London can be resumed, I believe and urge that that substantial immigration into Palestine cannot wait a solution to the Palestine problem and that it should begin at once.

"Preparations for this movement already have been made by this Government and it is ready to lend its immediate assistance.

U.S. Aid
"I state again as I have stated on previous occasions that the immigration laws of other countries, including the United States, should be liberalized with a view to the admission of displaced persons. I am prepared to make such a recommendation to Congress and to continue as energetically as possible, collaboration with other countries on the whole problem of displaced persons.

"Furthermore, should a workable solution for Palestine be devised, I would willingly recommend that the immigration laws of other countries, including the United States, should be liberalized with a view to the admission of displaced persons. I am prepared to make such a recommendation to Congress and to continue as energetically as possible, collaboration with other countries on the whole problem of displaced persons.

Jewish Proposals In London

London, Oct. 4.
Specific proposals about improvement of the atmosphere in Palestine were carried by the Jewish Agency delegation, led by Dr. Weizmann, to the Colonial Secretary, Mr. George Hall, in London today.

The Jewish Agency spokesman said today that it was felt that if something could be done to ease the Palestine situation, the difficulties about Jewish representation at the Palestine Conference by Jewish leaders now in detention would fall into line.

The meeting lasted about an hour and a half. Informed quarters in London believe that the Jewish Agency means to make a strong push to clear away the difficulties, which have so far prevented Jews from going to the Conference before it is reconvened on Dec. 16 and, if possible, to start Anglo-Jewish discussions on the substance of the Palestine problem before that date.—Reuter.

Foreign Office Snub For Truman

London, Oct. 5.
An official spokesman for the Foreign Office said last night that Britain "regretted" President Truman's new pronouncement on Palestine and felt it would "prejudice" further negotiations on the Holy Land's future.

The spokesman disclosed that Prime Minister Clement Attlee received the President's communication at midnight on Thursday and immediately cabled President Truman asking that it be delayed, pending study by himself and the Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin.

However, this request was not complied with, the spokesman said. He authorised reporters to say that he had made his statement after consultations with the Premier.

"The Prime Minister received the communication at midnight and sent an immediate request to the President, asking if he would be willing to delay the issue of a statement until Mr. Attlee could get in touch with the Foreign Secretary and have further consultations, and until a further telegram could be sent to the President, explaining the British point of view," the spokesman said.

"This request was not complied with. The British Government has been conducting negotiations with both the Jews and Arabs and these negotiations have not been broken off. Consultations with the Jewish representatives are in fact, going on at this moment.

"It is, therefore, most unfortunate that a statement of this kind, which may well jeopardize a settlement of the most difficult problem of Palestine, should be made at this time," the spokesman concluded.—Associated Press.

Graphic Sued For Libel

London, Oct. 4.
The solicitors for Mr. Max Assant, chairman of the Federation of Rumanian Industries, have today written to the "Daily Graphic" and "Sunday Graphic" and Mr. Stephen Conner, the company's special correspondent in Paris. The writ claims damages for a libel which is said to be contained in an article published by the "Daily Graphic" on Sept. 4.

The article stated that Mr. Assant had recently concluded a secret deal with a British arms firm for the purchase of surplus puppets and torpedo boats whose destination was a mystery. Mr. Assant denies that there is any truth whatever in the article.—Reuter.

Monty To Visit Malaya

Singapore, Oct. 4. Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff will visit Malaya in December when the final decisions regarding Malaya's defences will probably be made, said Lieut-General Sir Frank Messervy, GOC Malaya in an interview with the "Malaya Tribune" today.

General Messervy said that the future permanent strength of the Malaya Command would probably be three brigades, one of which was likely to be stationed at Singapore.

"Malaya Command is not intending any aggression but is only concerned with assuring internal security," General Messervy said.

General Messervy will leave for India shortly to take over the Northern Command—Reuter.

CONSTABLE SENTENCED

A special constable, Cheng Sun-chuen, was sentenced to nine months' hard labour by Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K.C., at the Central Magistracy yesterday for attempting to obtain a bribe of 10 cents from a rice hawkler, Lam Ngoh-chi, 13.

It was alleged that defendant instructed a small boy to collect 10 cents from complainant. When the hawkler refused defendant went to the girl's stall and spilled her rice.

Mr. MacKenzie, A.S.P. (C) prosecuted.

PIRATES FOILED

Macao, Oct. 5. Vigilance of the guards on board foiled an attempt by robbers to pirate the tow-boat "Luen Seong" last night.

The "Luen Seong" was on her way to Macao with passengers and cargo.

When crossing Tiger Channel, pirates armed with Mausers tried to board after firing several shots to intimidate her. But her guards brought their machine-guns into action and succeeded in warding off the pirates.

Ordinance To Aid Arms Hunt

An Ordinance to amend the Arms and Ammunition Ordinance, 1933, is published in the Gazette and will come before Legislative Council at its next meeting.

The main objects of the measure are—

To obtain so far as possible an accurate list of all arms lawfully in the Colony;

To enable a sentence exceeding one year's imprisonment and not exceeding three years to be imposed for possession of arms on summary conviction; and

To make it an offence in certain cases to use or under the provisions of the Ordinance, Exempted arms can also be checked.

The first object necessitates the issue of licences for all arms except duty arms which can be otherwise checked—and arms expressly exempted by or under the provisions of the Ordinance. Exempted arms can also be checked.

AN AP-SCOOP

Shanghai, Oct. 5. The Associated Press brought to China the first radio-photo news pictures in history. The photos were of war-crimes defendants receiving their sentences and the "Trident" landing—Associated Press.

No Room For Tourists

London, Oct. 4. Britain will lose £90,000,000 of foreign currency next year because of her inability to provide accommodation for the estimated 3,000,000 tourists anxious to visit this country, a British Travel Association official said today.

Delegates of 40 nations who attended an international travel conference emphasised the current trend towards holidays in Britain.

Mr. Ralph T. Reed, President of the American Express Company, said thousands of Americans are "itching" to spend their vacations in Britain. The majority, he said, were glad to bring their families to show them the places in which they were stationed and introduce them to the people with whom they became friends in this country. The United States airline companies estimate, he said, that they will be able to bring 100,000 Americans to Britain in 1947. Shipping companies will be ready to transport double that number.

But, with her existing hotels severely restricted and little prospect of more being built, Britain will not be in a position to accommodate these tourists, according to the Travel Association spokesman.

Reuter.

Three Chinese, armed with revolvers entered a goldsmith shop at 478 Shanghai Street shortly after 9 p.m. yesterday and stole gold ornaments worth approximately about four maces of pure gold, and 40 pairs of silver earrings. The total value of property stolen was about $300.

Two passengers were injured and one killed by stray bullets.

Exciting Tussles Featured Yesterday's Soccer

The overwhelming victory of 1/5 Commando over Hong Kong Club, during which Redman scored a "hat trick," and the exciting tussle between 45 Commando and Eastern which resulted in a win for the soldiers by the odd goal in three and Li Wai Lam of Eastern receiving marching orders, were the highlights of yesterday's curtailed League football programme.

At Causeway Bay, St. Josephs, despite the absence of several of their leading players, put up a good fight against Navy; they were beaten by four goals to two. South China did not have their own way against Kwong Wah and were fully extended, winning by four goals to two, thanks mainly to the brilliancy of Chau Man-chi.

In the Junior Division, Club was no match for 44 Commando and lost by three clear goals, while in the Valley Kit Chee registered their first win by beating Hong Kong Chinese Cadre by the odd goal in three.

CLUB LOSE

In their First Division League fixture against 1/5 Commando at Happy Valley yesterday afternoon, Hong Kong Club went down by eight goals.

The Club fielded an almost entirely different side to that which did service against Sing Tao last week. The newcomers did fairly well and it was a pity that in their first competitive match of the season they should have been pitted against a team of the calibre of 1/5 Commandos.

The score can hardly be described as a true reflection of the game, as Club enjoyed a fair share of the play and it was only through poor finishing that the forwards failed to score in reply. Blackford was a tower of strength in the Club defence and his quick bustling tactics upset many a dangerous move. Gardner in goal could not be blamed for the goals scored against him, as he was faced with a forward line of real sharpshooters, whose lightning shots would have beaten even the best of goalies.

The Commandos played inspired football and it would be rather difficult to single out any particular player for praise. The team coordinated excellently. Redman in the pivotal position caught the eye time after time with his accurate and speedy ball distribution. He rounded off a fine afternoon's display by completing the Beale, who scored two goals, opened with a fine header from a well placed corner. Goals followed at regular intervals from Redman (3), Coleman (2), and Ford (1).

The teams were—

Commandos: Willis, Taylor and Want; Black, Thomson and Quinton; Green, Edwards, Reddish, Dodd and Jackes.

Club: Lack, Taylor and Ingham; Onasager, Skudum and Hyton; Hamble, Brown, Kennard, Foulard and Colchester.

NAVY BEAT ST. JOSEPHS

The Navy v. St. Josephs game did not produce any really good football, the only flashes of brilliance coming from Heggie, the Navy inside right, and McDougall, the Saints' goalkeeper.

Had it not been for McDougall, the score would have been much heavier. One save in particular, after going down to push away a hard drive by Spratt and then to save again whilst on the ground, brought the applause it deserved.

The game opened briskly, enough but the pace did not last. The Navy were first to open the scoring when Jardine received a pass down the right wing and cut in to send in a shot which the goalkeeper could not hold and pushed into the net.

The Navy were on the attack again and increased the score by what was the best goal of the watch. Toms got the ball on the half-way line and sent a through pass to Spratt, who swerved round Hussain to shoot from 15 yards into the far corner of the net.

Play was mostly in the Saints' half but a sudden breakaway gave Xavier the chance to run down the right wing and cross to Ribeiro, who made no mistake with a first time shot.

The Navy soon resumed the attack and after a foul on Heggie by the Saints' goalkeeper a penalty was awarded from which Heggie scored.

The final goal of the match came some ten minutes from the finish, when Spratt chased a loose ball down the left wing and swung it across into the

LI SENT OFF

Outplayed in every department, Eastern were fortunate in only losing by 2-1 to 45 Commando in their First Division encounter at Happy Valley yesterday afternoon.

The game was spoilt by constant whistle-blowing for petty infringements. The Eastern players were the chief offenders in this respect. Their stout stature placed them at a decided disadvantage against the hefty Commandos and they were pulled up frequently for fouls which were, as seen from the stands, not really deliberate.

These persistent infringements resulted in Li Wai-lam, the Eastern centre-forward, being sent off the field in the second half, just after the equaliser had been scored by Nicholson.

The Chinese seemed to go to pieces after this and the Commandos went further ahead when Giddithorpe sent in a pile-driver which left the Chinese goals standing.

Team:—45 Commando: Taylor, Sinclair, Hiscok, Pallington, Burnage, Nicholson, Miller, Morrison, Dear, Humble and Goldthorpe.

Eastern: Leung Tin Tong, Leung Pak Wai, Fok Yiu Wan, Yan Chi Hung, Shiu Ping Shan, Yuen Shu, Choy Hon Kai, Li Ping Hoi, Li Wai Lam, Cheung Chung Kan and Yuen Yue Lam.

RASC WIN

The match at Chatham Road in the Second Division between 387 Company, R.A.S.C., and the Hong Kong Wireless Centre resulted in a bad come-down for the latter after their 3-0 win over the Police earlier in the week.

Club Lose

In the second division, 44 Commandos proved to be too strong for Hong Kong Football Club, when the latter team was beaten by three clear goals at Happy Valley yesterday afternoon.

Commandos' right winger, Green, scored the first goal after a penalty and another magnificent shot after a period of five minutes.

Kennard and Hutton played well for the Club, but missed several chances to score. At the interval, Commandos led by two clear goals.

Shortly after half time, Reddish, centre-forward, added another for Commandos, bringing their score to 3-0.

Teams—

Club: Gardner, Hopkinson, Blackford, Bond, Forrow, E. Jelstad, Wyder, Pryde, Mullen, Weller and Beck.

1/5 Commando: Powell, Timms, Bird, Inghis, Livsey, Toner, Beadle, Coleman, Redman, Banks and Ford.

Kit Chee v CC

In another Second Division game, Kit Chee defeated Chinese Cadre by 2-1, at the Navy Ground, Happy Valley, yesterday, after being held to a draw at half time.

Goalmouth, where McDougall failed to hold it, Jardine, fastening on to the ball, returned it quickly and Hussain had the misfortune to head it on to Castilho's back, from which it

KCC 40 Years Old Today

A lawn bowls match between Kowloon Cricket Club and Kowloon Bowling Green Club this afternoon will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the former Club.

Born on October 6, 1906, the Kowloon Cricket Club's beginnings were modest indeed. The club started in a small back room in the Kowloon premises of Messrs A. S. Watson and Co., and had no sports ground, matches being played on opponents' fields.

K.C.C.'s first recorded match was against the Ordnance Club in 1906 on the Parade Club ground at Happy Valley, and it was not until two years later that the Club acquired their present ground at Cox's Road.

The pavilion was a humble makeshift which was replaced in 1908 by a wooden structure. This did service until 1926 when the present modern clubhouse was erected.

Although much damaged by looters during the occupation, the clubhouse is being rapidly restored and the Club hopes soon to return to its former status as one of the Colony's leading sports organisations.

The bowls match, which will be played at K.C.C., will start at 3.30 p.m. Teams have been selected as follows:

K.C.C.—A. Madar, V. C. Labrum, A. E. P. Guest and M. N. Rakusen (skip).

A. D. Perry, F. E. Lawrence, A. L. G. Eastman and E. C. Fincher (skip).

R. E. Lee, W. C. Hung, A. J. Kew and T. A. Madar (skip).

K.B.C.—R. P. Phillips, F. C. Clemo, J. F. Gowan and L. Guy (skip).

J. G. Robertson, F. H. Wilkinson, J. Newton and F. Randle (skip).

E. F. Pope, H. F. Shields, F. A. Cheesman, and L. Sykes (skip).

Chinese "Y" Win Swim Meet By 40 To 32

A close finish in the Ladies' 200 Yards Free Style Relay, the last event of the evening, gave the Chinese Y.M.C.A. Lai Tsun Swimming Association the victory by 40 points to 32 against Victoria Recreation Club in the dual swim-meet held yesterday at the V.R.C. pool.

It was a close fight all the way, V.R.C. being a point behind with only one event to go. The meet produced nothing remarkable in the way of fast times. These were more promising than good, auguring well for the future with the crop of youngsters who swam against two of the Colony's swimming perennials—Wilfrid Lawrence of the V.R.C. and Chun-nam of Lai Tsun.

In point of fact, Victoria Recreation Club took four out of the five men's events, including the two relays, but the Lai Tsun girls were too good in the women's side of the competition.

Among the newcomers may be mentioned H. Ballerand, who comes here with a Shanghai reputation and has swum 50 yards faster than the 26 seconds that was good enough to take the 100 Yards Free Style. H. Ballerand, J. Rozza-Pereira, J. V.R.C. (H. Gomez and V. Lawrence), 1 min. 47 4/5 secs., 2. Lai Tsun (Yau Sai-kwan, Chan Chun-nam, Mok Sing-chuen and Poon Ming-kai) 1 min. 51 3/5 secs.

The Victoria Recreation Club, with their pavilion badly battered as a result of Japanese occupation of the premises, did well to make the gala of the usual V.R.C. big event and are, with Lai Tsun, to be congratulated on having finally put swimming back on the local sports map. Here the Travancore also deserve a laurel.

Prizes were given away by Miss Edith Nolasco da Silva.

Summaries

LOST HIS SHOES

A Chinese spectator who took off his shoes while at the Eastern v. 45 Commando match yesterday afternoon, became so engrossed in the game that he did not notice that they had been stolen.

Fortunately for him, the theft was noticed by one of the Chinese policemen on duty and the thief was caught red-handed with the shoes in his possession.

Both the spectator and the thief were permitted to see the end of the match, after which all parties proceeded to the Police Station.

HOCKEY

42 Commando (Lt.) avenged themselves for their recent hockey defeat against Land Forces H.Q. on Friday evening by defeating them by three clear goals.

From the start play was fast and spectators were treated to a vigorous and exciting match.

Both sides were strong and equally determined. Scoring was opened by Lt. Wilson after a scramble in the goal area, and the interval score was 1-0.

After about ten minutes of the second half Capt. Williams scored a perfect goal from a short corner which was followed quickly by another goal again by Lt. Wilson.

Land Forces in the first half had opportunity to score but failed, partly due to the capabilities of Cpl. Jones in goal. It was a hard and fast game, and one of the best yet seen on the Murray Barracks ground.

Land Forces H.Q. Thomas, Bennett, Barker, Paulo, Bhagisling, Law, Griffiths, Ewin, Sadu, Chandhatia, Meekle, 42 Commando (Lt.) Jones, Saunders, Davis, Abrams, Sturges, Hobbs, Acton, Wilson, Gardner Brown, Knowles, Williams.

150 IIB BEAT VOLUNTEERS

In a hockey match played at Shamshupo on Friday, 150 Indian Infantry Brigade H.Q. Officers beat the Hong Kong Volunteers by seven goals to one.

The Volunteers had a hard time against the Brigade Officers' inside forward trio of Major Suner Singh, Col. Cruddas and Capt. Narindra Singh, the latter of whom scored four goals in the first half. Col. Cruddas netting the three in the second.

Women's Golf Champion

Hunsdon, Norfolk, Oct. 4. The 23-year-old handcap player, Mrs. W. Hetherington, of Wansford, London, today beat the Irish 19-year-old champion, Miss P. Garvey, by one hole in the 36 hole final here to win the British Women's Golf Championship.

Mrs. Hetherington, who a year ago was in the Women's Land Army and had her husband as a caddy, started in great style, winning the first two holes, which was the lead she held at the end of 18 holes.

The new champion went round in 80 to Miss Garvey's 82 and was sturdier than her rival.

The second 18 holes was a dog-gone affair. The Irish girl was still two down at the 27th, but won three of the next four holes to become one up for the first time. The Irish champion lost the next hole and the final was thus all square, with four to play.

The next two holes were halved, but the English girl won the 35th, and halving the last won the title after a great struggle.

The winner's long play was good and her putting, which might equally have won the course of the game, was excellent—Reuter.
